Applied Psychology and Human Development Minor Only for CSOM, CSON, MCAS students

The Applied Psychology and Human Development minor consists of 18 credits in the Lynch School. It involves three required courses (9 credits) and three elective courses (9 credits).

Required courses: 9 credits	Credits	Prerequisite/Notes
Choose one course from each of the following three categories.
1. Developmental Applied Psychology Course:
APSY/EDUC 1030 Child Development OR
APSY 2041 Adolescent Development OR
APSY 3244 Adult Development & Aging
2. Contextual Applied Psychology Course:
APSY/EDUC 1031 Family, School and Society OR
APSY 2243 Social Oppression and Transformation OR
APSY 4397 Social Issues and Social Policy
3. Cognitive Applied Psychology Course:
APSY 2032 Cognition and Learning OR
APSY 4233 Motivation, Emotion, & Self-Regulated Learning OR
APSY 6421 Translating Science of Learning into Practice

Electives: 9 credits	Credits	Prerequisite/Notes
Three additional APSY courses. Please consult the		Some courses have prerequisites;
EagleApps Course Information and Schedule for offerings.		plan accordingly.

Declaration of Minor: Students may declare the minor in the Office of Undergraduate Student Services, Campion Hall 104.