

ethics. This year we note an increase to 5 on the scale for the question relating to animal research ethics. We will continue this emphasis. The student papers that students indicated that students felt very positive about the core courses and that the courses were meeting the department's core learning goals.

6) (Your latest comprehensive departmental self-study and external review.)

Fall 2011